

With talks ranging from integration of NFM into national frameworks and climate change targets, through to the practicalities of ensuring rural stakeholder uptake and delivery mechanisms. Speakers include a wide range of experts from both policy and delivery teams with the UK, France, the Netherlands, and Belgium.

Programme (UK GMT)

9:00 – 9:10 am	Welcome & Introduction By William Barnard - FWAG SW (UK)
9:10 – 9:30 am	Lessons learned from different flood relief projects by Bart Aubroek - Antwerp Province (Belgium)
9:30 – 9:50 am	Integrating NFM in our National programme by Jon Hollis – Environment Agency (UK)
9:50 – 10:10 am	How to engage farmers with NFM? Lessons learnt from the Hills to Levels Project by Sabine McEwan - FWAG SW (UK)
10:10 – 10:15 am	Group discussion
10:15 – 10:20 am	Comfort Break
10:20 – 10:40 am	Declination of the French climate adaptation policy with NBS by Marie Gros - Office français de la biodiversité (France)
10:40 – 11:00 am	It's not about the Beaver by Ben Eardley- National Trust (UK)
11:00 – 11:20 am	Fighting climate change induced hazards with Nature Based Solutions by Borjana Bogatinoska - Open Universiteit (Netherlands)
11:20 – 11:25 am	Group discussion
11:25 – 11:30 am	Comfort Break
11:30 – 11:50 am	Green infrastructures as tools to mitigate runoff at the catchment scale, feedback from the experience of Normandy by Jean-Baptiste Richet - ARES Research (France)
11:50 – 12:10 am	Hydrological and wetlands restoration work by Théo Laurent- SMBVA (France)
12:10 – 12:30 am	Group discussion, wrap up and thank you by Will Barnard – FWAG SW (UK)

Organisation: FWAG SW: Farming & Wildlife Advisory Group South West (UK) – Will Barnard, SCC: Somerset County Council (UK) – Steve Dury, and OUNL: Open University of The Netherlands– Angelique Lansu, Jikke van Wijnen.

MS Teams invite: (please feel free to share with anyone you feel may be interested in the content of the morning):

Click here to join the Seminar - Participation free

All viewers requested to turn off both their camera and their microphone unless instructed otherwise please.

Contact in relation to the programme: will.barnard@fwagsw.org.uk